To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to attest to Ann Tran's great professional skills as a translator. Based in Vancouver, Canada, RealWorld Media Inc. is a company that develops broadcast and interactive content in multiple languages for customers around the world. Ann has worked with RealWorld translating from English to Vietnamese complex educational and testing content for our Department of Motor Vehicle (DMV) clients across the United States.

Ann was able to deal with intricate nuance and bridge the cultural barriers inherent to each language. She not only demonstrated a broad understanding of linguistic issues but also appreciated the cultural challenges of the intended audience, producing translations of exceptional quality that have been unquestionably accepted by the intended users.

Having dealt with many translators of various languages, located in different parts of the world, I would also like to say that Ann developed an exceptional understanding of our technology requirements in a very short period of time and was able to maintain proper and effective Internet communication with RealWorld. Ann provided perfect files created to very specific requirements always on time!

Ann is a worldly person able to deal with numerous subjects and a treat to work with! If you wish to further discuss Ann's professional abilities please feel free to call me, 1 (604) 709-0970.
